

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION ↪ WHAT IS THE SUZUKI METHOD, ANYWAY?	1
The Philosophy
The Curriculum
Technical Concepts
ONE ↪ PRIORITY TEACHING	7
Teaching Balanced Posture of the Body, Including Violin and Bow Hold
Teaching Balanced Tone Production or “Tonalization”
Teaching Perfect Intonation
Teaching Skills for Developing Artistic Musicianship in Performance
Teaching Notes and Bowings to New Pieces
TWO ↪ ROTE VERSUS NOTE	13
Note versus Rote: Unlocking the Mystery of Playing by Ear
Step One: Can You Tell the Difference between Two Notes That Are the Same and Two Notes That Are Different?
Step Two: When They Are Different, Can You Describe the Second Pitch as Higher or Lower than the First?
Step Three: Understand the Inherent Logic of Your Instrument
Step Four: Know How the Piece You Are Trying to Play Is Supposed to Sound
Step Five: Think of the Song in Terms of Direction of Pitch
Step Six: Allow the Freedom to Use Trial and Error to Choose the Notes
THREE ↪ POSTURE	25
Posture of the Violin
Shoulder Pads
Chin Rests
A Word about Habits
Posture of the Left Hand
Posture of the Bow

FOUR	↳ TONALIZATION	39
	The Left-Hand Technique in Tonalization
	The Bow's Technique in Tonalization
	Incorporating Tonalization into the Playing
	The Primary Point of Resistance
FIVE	↳ INTONATION	47
	Basic Terminology
	Learning How to Listen
	A Dual System
	Absolute Pitch
	Relative Pitch
	The Truth of the Matter
SIX	↳ SKILLS FOR DEVELOPING MUSICIANSHIP	55
	Developing the Beginning Bow Arm
	Bow-Directed Playing
	Developing Musical Direction in the Playing
	Bow Distributions
	Improving Listening Skills
	Parts of the Sound
	Clean String Crossings
	Three General Rules for Making Music
	Use of Vibrato
	Intentional Becomes Intuitive
SEVEN	↳ LISTENING	67
	Passive Listening
	Cultivate Your Listening Vision
	Multiple Copies of the Reference Recording
	Listening Equipment
	The BIG EAR Contest
	Learn the Names of the Pieces
	Best Time of Day to Listen
	Active Listening

EIGHT	↪ THE REALITY OF PRACTICE	75
	Comprehension
	Cooperation
	Constructive Repetition
NINE	↪ REVIEW	81
	Story 1: The Interview
	Story 2: The Mother with an Agenda
	Story 3: The Model Student
	The Point
	The Value of Review
	How to Do It
	Ways to Make Review More Interesting
	Starting a Review Program
TEN	↪ POSITIONS AND SHIFTING	91
	Positions
	Shifting
ELEVEN	↪ VIBRATO	103
	Vibrato Comes from a Point of Relaxation, not Tension
	What is Vibrato?
	Three Types of Vibrato
	Three Aspects of Vibrato
	Developing the Form
	Preparatory Exercises for the Left Hand
	Developing the Oscillation
	Checking the Form for Tension
	Development of Speed
	Incorporating Vibrato in the Playing
TWELVE	↪ SUMMARY	113
	Vision versus Expectation
	People, Places, and Times	