

Contents

List of Examples	ix
Foreword by Bernard Garfield	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
About the Companion Website	xvii
Introduction	xix

PART I Foundations

1. Underlying Direction	3
2. Beginner's Mind and Not Knowing	6
3. Musical Influences and Reed Making	8
4. Test It for Yourself	17
5. Machines for Bassoonists on a Limited Reed-Making Budget	19
6. Using a Dial Indicator	25
7. Chains of Causes and Conditions in Reed Work	33
8. The Relationship Between the Embouchure and the Reed's Tip Opening	38
9. Bocals	42
10. The Study of Cane: Size, Straightness, and Density	47
11. Cycles of Reeds	60

PART II Reed-Making Procedures

12. Gouging	77
13. Some Thoughts about Shapers and Shaping	86
14. Some Thoughts about Profile Types	104
15. Forming the Tube, Beveling, and Wrapping	116
16. Finishing Strategies	132
Workflow Chart for the Way of Cane	175

PART III Performance

17. The Reed Notebook	181
18. More on Fingerings	186
19. Efficient Practicing	205
20. Prolonging a Reed's Life	207
21. Tonguing and Double Tonguing	209
22. Notes for the Recordings	215

PART IV Supplemental Material

23. Adjusting and Setting Reed Machines	241
24. Cane Hardness Testing	261
25. Correspondence with Norman Herzberg	265
26. A few Words About Auditions	272
Summary	276
Afterword	278
Appendices	279
Selected Bibliography	309
Index	313