THE CONCERTOS

The following pages contain transposed editions of the concertos for alto trombone by Albrechtsberger, Wagenseil, and Leopold Mozart. The printed pitches are a perfect fourth below the actual sounding pitches. If you chose to follow Method No. 1 in this volume, that is, treating the alto trombone as a transposing instrument, then you should be prepared to play these editions. If you chose either of the other methods you will then need to play from the already published versions of these works. In any event, you will need to purchase the other versions to obtain the accompaniments. They are not included in this book. Other available editions of these compositions at the present time are listed below.
